I knew it was a long shot for me, and I haven't heard from them. Anyone else get in? I thought they were going to announce May 5th...

I have raced at Laguna with 70 Spec Miatas in an SCCA Pro Spec Miata race on Indy Car weekend many years ago. It was a blast but I had a crappy rental car and still finished 15thafter starting 35th.

It is my understanding that our run groups were limited to 35 cars. I may be wrong but that is what I remember hearing.

34+24+12=60 I like your math:)

It would be interesting to deal with 70 cars on track, do they usually have split starts or just line up as you qualified with all breeds?

Sorry, what's the PRC?

Thats because the Pinatas only count as half a car.

PRC is the Porsche Racing Club. They rent a session and run under NASA Sanction. When they are there we run in their run group.

I havent raced at Laguna in a few years.

Does anyone know if we can do a track walk Friday night? It is an awesome track to walk and it will give you a much needed look at slow speed.

Also we have been talking about a potluck Saturday night but I see that NASA is planning a BBQ.

Do we still want to do the Potluck?

Please reply here so we can get an idea of who is in or out.

Thanks,

Charlie

It doesnt get dark until 9 so we may be able to sneak on at T4 and walk to T10 with out being seen.

I know I have walked this track before, it is a great one to walk.
