

Lemons 944

Posted by rlofgren - 04 Dec 2010 21:03

I'm at Buttonwillow for another Lemons race. 944 this time, the Help Dubai team . I think it's an 86, koni shocks, pretty much stock everything else. it does have the late giant gas tank though. We almost could have done 7 hours today on one pit stop. not the fastest car on the track, but we did get into first place on the pit stop rotations. We ended the day in 4th overall. We are sharing resources with a BMW, The Most Interesting Car in the World(XX). They are in 5th overall tonight.

More action tomorrow.

I fought thru a black flag(mine) today to help us finish third overall. The sister BMW finished 4th. The fedup BMW E30 won overall with Team America turbo miata finishing second. Pics on the way. Dinner at Harris ranch. Mmmmm
