

R3 rage head restraint for sale

Posted by rd7839 - 11 Feb 2013 20:12

I changed seats this offseason and regrettably I can't seem to get comfortable with my R3 head restraint and will have to change to a HANS. I really hate to give this up as I think it is a great design.

It was manufactured in 2008, meets SFI spec 38.1, and is size medium. I did not opt for the sliding tethers but have no problem moving my head enough to see. It is the half composite/half carbon fiber model and is in great shape. Comes with a homemade carrying case and all the hardware.

$300.
