

3 wide and sideways pass

Posted by norman#99 - 10 Dec 2011 18:07

A Kodak moment from the last race weekend of the NASA-AZ season. The RX7 gave me a point by then realized there was another car on his right, so he came over on me, then the drifting commenced! Thank goodness for a clean pass, lots of people were watching! Thanks to all of my good friends that I have the pleasure of racing with, thanks to NASA-AZ for hosting all of the races and most of all to Susan, my crew chief, best friend and soul-mate! Hope to race with you all next year at some fun place!

Happy Holidays 944-spec Family:)!!!

=====

Re: 3 wide and sideways pass

Posted by JerryW - 10 Dec 2011 19:09

Sole (of shoe) mate or Soul mate - might make a big difference !

That is an awesome set of pics - well done

=====

Re: 3 wide and sideways pass

Posted by norman#99 - 11 Dec 2011 06:01

Thanks mate, I stand corrected, I've never had a soul mate before so I didn't need to know how to spell it till now, I've mostly dealt with worn out soles. Thanks for saving my relationship, they say you Brits brought the language over, so good on you for monitoring it.

I will pass on to the photographer that you like his pics,

Cheers!

=====

Re: 3 wide and sideways pass

Posted by JerryW - 11 Dec 2011 08:49

We will get you speaking English again !

Look forward to you getting out here to race again sometime.

=====

Re: 3 wide and sideways pass

Posted by joepaluch - 11 Dec 2011 13:52

Sideways Norm in top form!

Wow...

=====

Re: 3 wide and sideways pass

Posted by Sterling Doc - 11 Dec 2011 16:07

joepaluch wrote:

Sideways Norm in top form!

Wow...

Agree - it's amazing that Norm caught the back end in one motion, and didn't hip check the RX-7!

=====