

Shopping List - Where Buy Parts / Equipment

Posted by jaje - 23 Dec 2008 23:53

Would like to make sure I support the Spec sponsors as I have several items I need to buy to finish my car. I see the list of sponsors and want to buy from those who help significantly.

Front / Rear Tow Hooks (what style to use - SM style tow straps, the Turbo type steel eye, or the std 944 style tow eye plate).

Steering wheel quick release (I have a cheapo Pilot steering wheel from Autozone and want to add quick release to make it easier to get in the car as I'm 6'3" and steering wheel impedes my ingress/egress).

6 Point FIA belts

Seat Sliders to work with Kirkey seat (have the side mounts on it)

4 Pole Master Switch

Window Net Kit (quick release type that doesn't use belt buckle)

Rollbar Padding

Oil Pan Gasket and Bolts / Nuts

Timing Belt Kit

Axles Bolts

Front A Arms and bushings (will get them box welded)

Hawk Blue Pads and bumper ducts and 3" ducting (I have backing plates that attach to knuckle)

Hardwire AMB Transponder

Longacre (OP / WTemp) gauge panel and ignition switch / push start panel with aux switch (likely for hard wired radiator fan)

Vinyl Stickers (need to register #)

Re:Shopping List - Where Buy Parts / Equipment

Posted by jaje - 14 Jan 2009 23:24

How do I register for a 944 Spec racing #? Should I contact Linda to do this? I can't use 42 as it is taken.

I also need some Toyo stickers in black for my spec car. I called their number and asked but didn't get any response or the stickers. I did same with Hawk and got them quickly.

Re:Shopping List - Where Buy Parts / Equipment

Posted by Sterling Doc - 15 Jan 2009 01:24

Joel,

Email lynda Royce

This e-mail address is being protected from spambots. You need JavaScript enabled to view it for a number. Look on the NASA website for #'s taken.

Re:Shopping List - Where Buy Parts / Equipment

Posted by jaje - 15 Jan 2009 01:32

Thanks Erik.

I emailed Lynda and you are now looking at the new #74 944 Spec car!
