

Build Party second weekend in Jan?

Posted by Sterling Doc - 28 Dec 2008 09:41

Hey guys,

Rob is coming in from Fargo, ND (weather permitting) the second weekend in Jan. Who can squeeze in a build/welcome into that weekend? I live in Sterling, IL. (2 hours west of Chicago). 1st couple of guys can stay in beds at my house, next couple get couches, and anyone else gets an air mattresses.

I have a copy of Dust to Glory (best racing documentary ever) that we can watch, other games, and lots of stuff we can do to my (or your) car. I'll have room for at least one other car in my garage (maybe two) if someone wants to bring a car to work on.

Provided I don't get snowed in, or snowed under with work, I'll try making it up there for this. I should have both of the transmissions done by then, so I can bring them up with me.

You know I am in for that Eric as long as everything else stays in order.

Thanks Chris! Would be great to see you & introduce you to some of the crew!

I do live about 100 miles west of Chicago - so it may be a bit more of a haul than you realize, though.
