

Steering hub hardware

I'm helping Mitch shop for a steering hub adapter and quick release for the #24 car. Any recommendations on safe and inexpensive hardware ?

I never did that shopping since the PO had installed already in my car. Thanks in advance

I would agree with Bill. Ray had a splined setup in his car, and when I came in for a pit-stop in an endurance race, I did not get the wheel straightened out. Ray hopped in, put the steering wheel in upright (with the wheels turned). He then had to run the balance of the enduro with the wheel off about 45 degrees!
