Would this seat be legal for 944 spec?

And, I know alot of lotus elise guys slot their seats for submarine belts and pass tech, would I be able to do that to this seat and still be legal?

That seat is a tube frame seat and won't be able to take a seat back brace. In that price range you would be better off with something like this

[www.ioport racing.com/Merchant2/merchant....p;Category\_Code=KRS3](http://www.ioport racing.com/Merchant2/merchant....p;Category_Code=KRS3)

but I'd recommend upgrading somewhat to:

www.ioportracing.com/Merchant2/merchant...p;Category\_Code=KRS1

The Intermediate Road Race Seat was what I was considering before I saw this on sale. Probably better off with it.

It's what I run and have been very happy with them.

I missed that the OMP had a FIA certification (But it only has 4 slots so wouldn't be the right FIA for road racing I suspect.) That would mean you didn't need a seat back brace until the FIA cert ran out.

I'd still not get and modify a seat -- use one that was built for the purpose.

I am not fan of aluminum seats, However I like tube frame even less.

So get an aluminum instead of tube frame if price is an issue.

BTW... I got used Kirkey intermediate for $50. I have it as my passenger's seat.
