

Might need a radiator

Posted by cullenwinter - 14 Apr 2008 01:10

I'm getting some leaking from the plastic end tank, and I think my AF mixture may have gotten weak and it froze. Is the 924S radiator different from the 944 ? Any leads on one cheap and fast ? I'll know this afternoon if I need one before Gateway. Thanks you may want to have a bottle of stop leak with you in case it starts leaking on the way.

Yeah. If you can find the source of the leak and need to patch it from the outside, JB "Water Weld" makes decent side-of-the-road temporary repairs (you can do it by hand, and it'll cure in wet conditions).
