

Christmas Present

Joe - I know you've been really busy but is there any chance we will get a Christmas present of knowing what is changeing in the rules for next year.

(With a couple of 4 day weekends coming up I was planning to do some prep for next year - and I hate waiting until the year starts before knowing what needs to be fixed and our first race is in Feb)

Got it. Thats what I was looking for. I just thought we were going to install that for clarification. Maybe next year.

Thanks again Joe.

I just talked to National and looks like we have agreeded.

So by Monday or Tuesday I will able to share these with you guys. Sorry for the delay, but due to input from the National office we have made a couple minor tweaks to changes. Nothing major, but still better to wait and release at one time.
