

2011 - Rules change proposals - List ideas here

Posted by joepaluch - 07 Oct 2010 08:28

Ok,

Time for 2011 rules change proposals.

List them here and I will work them into something we can formally evaluate.

I will start with 2.

1) Change - Clarification on use of Fog light hole(and other holes) for air intake (ie ram air)

Reason - Clearly define that fog light hole can be used for air intake. Also make clear what other holes need to be filled in vs used as in take for cooling air, and engine air.

2) Change - Larger jack pad

Reason - make pad size a close match for typical floor jack pads.

Chuck,

There are 3 posts with 7 specific proposals for 2011.

Only 1 of them covers Data Aquisition. That proposal has 2 parts (or two variations on the same theme). One with limited sharing of the data and one with no sharing.

I want to see feedback on the proposals as written. This post has lots of comments and talk and that went into crafting the word around what was proposed. Maybe proposal 2011-7a and 7b are still way off the mark. If so make it clear there.

Joe, would you like us to make input under those threads or here ?

Under the sticky threads. Easier to seach through all the responses when are linked to the actual proposals.
